

Mother of Invention

Harem Scarem

Mother of invention dies
We all will mourn her soon
The winter of your garden hides
That nothing ever blooms

No father, son or holy ghost
Only solitude

Now you should sail on
To clear calm waters
You can brave storms
They'll make you stronger
Just let love shine into your heart
Mind, body and soul

Satellites are falling down
No lines are getting through
Reaching out but there's no word
Communication doomed

No hallowed halls or sacred ground
Only solitude

Now you should sail on
To clear calm waters
You can brave storms
They'll make you stronger
Just let love shine into your heart

Mind, body and soul

Now you should sail on
To clear calm waters
You can brave storms
They'll make you stronger
Just let love shine into your heart
Mind, body and soul

Every light comes from the dark
Wake your senses and light your spark
Again again again

Now you should sail on
To clear calm waters
You can brave storms
They'll make you stronger
Just let love shine into your heart
Mind, body and soul

Now you should sail on
To clear calm waters
You can brave storms
They'll make you stronger
Just let love shine into your heart
Mind, body and soul
