

Never Have It All

Harem Scarem

So for now
You think you've found a way
To console yourself
Every hour of the day
But I believe this isn't true
Those burning lights of past regret
Will always blind you
Yesterday is never behind us
Everyday still looking to find us
Close your eyes
Repent your sins
And think you're fine with everything
My words rang true
You'll never have it all
Don't worry now
You were so profound to say
It will all work out
Only time can find a way
