

Heartbeat

Have Mercy

I'll kick liquor and cigarettes
If it'll help you remember me
Like the way that I used to be
Fill missing pieces you really need
I'm waking up in a fever dream
Like something's fighting inside of me
I'm trying my best not to call you and tell you all this shit
I'm trying to get over it

So make it known
You always hated being alone
But I could be there in a heartbeat
So make it known
It ain't love if it ain't something I show
But I could be there in a heartbeat

I'll see your face in the city streets
And every person I ever meet
I know where you really wanna be
A million miles away from me
Tonight there's a wine stain on my shirt
Pointing exactly where I'm hurt

So make it known
You always hated being alone
But I could be there in a heartbeat
So make it known
It ain't love if it ain't something I show
But I could be there in a heartbeat

Why did you run, honey?
Why'd you run?
Why did you run, honey?
Why'd you run?
Why did you run, honey?
Why'd you run?
Why did you run, honey?
Why'd you run?

So make it known
You always hated being alone
But I could be there in a heartbeat
So make it known
It ain't love if it ain't something I show
But I could be there in a heartbeat
But I could be there in a heartbeat
