

In Misery

Have Mercy

Locked inside my room emptiness filled with gloom
Depression locked inside of me
No place left to hide, no one to satisfy
There's nothing left for me
I try to be positive, in this world so negative
Everything seems just a waste
When all love turns to hate, no love no escape
Happiness my only fantasy

I ask thee Lord why I was born, what is my purpose in this world
I know that it's a sin, but maybe you'll give in
Do I have the right to take my own life ?
It's so easy to be a pessimist, hard to be an optimist
I beg thee for a sign, that happiness will be mine
I must try harder to achieve my goals

World of pain, what is there is to gain, I must find
Answers, to the questions eating me, seek the truth
Alone again, emptiness my only friend, I must escape
Misery, the harsh reality, I shall overcome

But I gotta right to do whatever the fuck I wanna do
If I wanted your opinion I'd ask for it - That's Right!
So why don't you just shut your mouth, get the hell out of my house
And if you think you're right, who cares - Shut Up!
You know you really make me sick, why don't you just suck my dick
Put your fuckin money where your mouth is asshole
You Suck!
I shall overcome these pains, I shall learn to live again
I'll prove you wrong you bastard, - Fuck Off!

With every passing breath, I shall pass life's test
For hardship makes death seem more sweet
But where there's a will, there shall be a way
In life only the strong survive
