

Plastic Covered Furniture

Have Mercy

Why are you leaving and where will you go?
If you take the train back home
Stuck in the winter and drowned in the snow,
It's where I will make my home.

My home

I was in every single picture you never hung on your wall.
You put me on the back burner.
I will be there 'til you need me in your life
Like plastic covered furniture.
It may be how I made you feel; it isn't what I deserve.

I heard you grew up but I'd have to see
So I can believe, so I can believe.
I remember the last thing you said to me,
"You're going nowhere in life and it may hurt
But this is how it's got to be"

You felt that way all along?
I'm here to prove you wrong.

I was in every single picture you never hung on your wall.

You put me on the back burner.
I will be there 'til you need me in your life
Like plastic covered furniture.
It may be how I made you feel; it isn't what I deserve.

What a way to push away
The man you said you'd never hate.
But were you in a conscious state?
What a way to push away
The man you said you'd never hate.
But were you in a conscious state?

I was in every single picture you never hung on your wall.
You put me on the back burner.
I will be there 'til you need me in your life
Like plastic covered furniture.
It may be how I made you feel when we were, were
It may be how I made you feel; it isn't what I deserve.
