Counterweight

Heaven Shall Burn

Unrelenting, their endeavour to rule lives Teaching you an artificial truth, that you will grieve no more, that you will die no more

Narrow minded mercenaries, slave traders, soul collectors

Send a promise of destruction to those who will not kneel Derision of the upright ones as fear devours all doubts

But there are so many things I hold beyond their reach The doom you promised me may come, I'm not afraid

You cannot save me I am the counterweight No need to save me for I'm the counterweight

And I will grieve no more, I will die no more
