

Tragic Tragic Track Jacket

Heavy Heavy Low Low

It was the faulty foundation said the weeping eyes the architecture bends under pressure the architecture broke over lies they said "just a trend" they said "just a phase" they were right now every person in this place will lose their fucking lives i am a burning building bringing everyone inside to the ground in the time it takes to make things right we'll make new memories this feeling will have passed i'll have said goodbye you'll have gone and went i'll turn my back on the only meaning in my past what destroys me will have saved my life we are gone
i am a burning building bringing everyone inside to the ground
