

Don't Wake Me Up

Helalyn Flowers

As I look into your eyes
My reflection's turning into dragonflies
I play your imagination
You can't do anything to escape
So don't wake me up

No don't you wake me up
I stand for nothing you can live for
Don't you wake me up
I don't need to belong

Life is a broken glass
And our lives are its own reflex

I play your imagination
You can't do anything to escape
So don't wake me up

No don't you wake me up
I stand for nothing you can live for
Don't you wake me up
I'm not afraid to fall
No don't you wake me up
I stand for nothing you can live for
Don't you wake me up
I don't need to belong

Life is a broken glass
And our lives are its own reflex
