You Don't Know

Although I love you so Oh you don't know You don't know just how I feel For my love I daren't reveal I am so, I'm so afraid You might not care

Every time you pass me by Oh you don't know, you don't know What I go through Seeing someone else with you Oh I wish the one with you, were me But you don't know

I would tell you, if I believed That you might care some day But until then I'll never give this away

So a secret it must stay And you don't know, you don't know How hard to bear Is this one way love affair For it breaks my heart to be in love When you don't know

I would tell you, if I believed That you might care some day But until then I'll never give this away

So a secret it must stay And you don't know, you don't know How hard to bear Is this one way love affair For it breaks my heart to be in love When you don't know
