Nympho

Holy Mother

She always had to be a good writer
Always dreams of sex
She drew upon reality
And now she thinks of death
She always seems so high
Instead she seems depressed
Forget the past, break through the door
Her life is just a test

Neglected your father, you fucked up her life Rejected your family there's nothing left to hide

Unleashed you from yourself
And let your soul run free to fly
You tried to save your life
But then you contemplated suicide
Oh! She's a nymphomaniac maniac
Nymphomaniac maniac

I'm in an insane asylum

Someone to lead me through problems

Someone to lead me back

If there's a heaven,

then why is this world black

Where's your mother Mary did you hang her out to dry A prayer that lasts forver you cut off all your family ties You got nowhere else to hide

She always had to be a good writer Always dreams of sex
She drew upon reality
But now she thinks of death

You nymphomatic maniac You tried to find your spirit Your parents put you away
