

No Destination

Hoobastank

I run away
Through the dark and empty space
Where the wind will erase your memory
Here in the black there is no turning back
It's the only place where I can get away

This is where I know I'm safe
The Road is my escape
A hiding place from you under the sky
There's nowhere else I'd rather be
The moonlight blankets me
The stars will be my company tonight

The further I run
The more that I become
Weightless and numb to hurting
Worries and fears hold no gravity here
It's the only place it all makes sense to me

This is where I know I'm safe
The Road is my escape
A hiding place from you under the sky
There's nowhere else I'd rather be
The moonlight blankets me
The stars will be my company tonight

No destination
I have found the core inside the storm
No destination
I have found the core inside the storm

This is where I know I'm safe
The Road is my escape
A hiding place from you under the sky
There's nowhere else I'd rather be
The moonlight blankets me
The stars will be my company tonight

No destination
I have found the core inside the storm