

Edge of Nowhere

Hunters & Collectors

We run together but so much is left unsaid
I'm right beside you but I can't tell what's in your head
I made a promise but you keep me hangin' on
So far to travel but my heart it ain't that strong

Can I call you from the edge of nowhere?
Can I reach you if I call from the other side?
Would you throw me a line 'cross the banks of a broken
river?
Would you save me if I threw myself into the raging tide?

There's so much I could say but I can't tell you why
We got to walk to the water when I know that we could fly
Away from here but the path is oh so long
Longer than the time that it takes to get back home

Can I call you from the edge of nowhere?
Can I reach you if I call from the other side?
Would you throw me a line 'cross the banks of a broken
river?
Would you save me if I threw myself into the raging tide?
