

Love All Over Again

Hunters & Collectors

Party's over - the dawn is red
Search light swingin' way overhead
I believe I'm lookin' for love all over again
Which way danger - which way home
Wander in the wasteland - through the unknown
Lookin' for love all over again

Somebody said - "Look around and you will find
Wake up and open your mind
Leave your despair behind
Ya lookin' for love all over again"

Take a look into the rising sun
Tomorrow has finally come
Nothing to lose but love all over again
There is no heaven there is no hell
Here I am in the here and now
On my hands and knees all over again

All the way home - the end has never been so near
Love without favour or fear
You're long gone but I'm still here
For love all over again

I made a promise I just could not keep
Visions of freedom were lurkin' in my sleep
Day in day out I sowed the seed
But I left behind all the dreams I did not need

Mother knows everything's gonna be alright
Those dreams of hope, they grow like weeds
All through the night

Found myself now I'm coming down
I've been crawlin' all over this town
Around and around and around all over again

Can't you feel the wind?
The end has never been so near
Love without favour or fear
Your love gone but I'm still here for love

Somebody said - "Look around and you will find
Wake up and open your mind
Leave your despair behind
Ya lookin' for love all over again"
