

Something To Believe In

Hunters & Collectors

Give me something to believe in
Anything will do
From this world of wonder
Lost images of you
When everything's forgotten
I know this to be true

I'll give you what you ask for
If you'll just give me the cue
You gotta hold on hard
'Cos it's too late to begin again
At the centre of our lives
That special feeling
Won't you give me something to believe in

Well the money keeps talking but it don't say much to me
And if the truth is known only broken words are free
All your invitations, all the things you say
There are no sweet promises on that special day
So won't you give me something to believe in
Give me something to believe in

Give me your word, just a word and I'll be there
I can feel a change is comin', whispers in the air
So keep a lookout for the long white cloud
Keep a lookout for the shore
We can touch base for a moment
And I'll run from you no more
If you'll give me something to believe in
Give me something to believe in
