

She's Comin' To The Show

Huntingtons

got the call an hour ago said she's comin' to the show oh no what are we gonna do now because whenever she's there i can stand and i stare at her long brown hair and it all falls apart somehow there'll be no rock 'n' roll tonight the sound is really gonna stink when she's right under the spotlight i can't think

maybe the rain will keep her away a flat front tire or a broken leg maybe she'll just wanna stay at home and we'll rock all night i won't drop my pick and i'll get all the words right but if she's there then we'll be doomed
