

This House Is Haunted

I Am Kloot

Looks like a ruin, you think nothings doing,
Under the arches, somethings still moving,
We lie together, forever and ever,
The truth be uncovered, no face in the mirror.

I always said, you should leave them dead,
Now this house is haunted, now look in the ruins,

The day they'll discover, you're still with me my lover,
The credence is craving, the truth be uncovered,
I sent them your letter, that read like a lecture,
There on the pages, the laughter, the rages.

She always said, we'd be better off dead,
This house is haunted, the face in the mirror.

Kiss me and shiver, one day they'll discover,
You're with me my lover, the truth be uncovered,
Kiss me and shiver, one day they'll deliver,
The news of your heart, so dearly departed,

I always said, we'd be better off dead,
This house is haunted.

She always said, I'd be better off dead,
This house is haunted.
