

Don't Take Me for Pomegranate

I Set My Friends on Fire

You think it's okay to push in the knife
You're good with the way it ruined my life
I've lost my ways of functionality
I sleep with cobwebs tucked over the sea
People like you, refuse to believe there's anything besides the world that we live on Friends with a view, recycle and reuse but still don't know what the fuck we live on

Those gates were never guarded, I'm going in regardless
Climbed your walls without a harness
I'd put you on my shoulders even if I was armless

I want to feel better about it but I'm up to my neck and I'm drowning Swore it'd never be this way, will it ever be okay?
I could never hold it against you, seven missed calls on the phone when I miss you
I don't ever want to forget you, no, I don't ever want to forget you

Those gates were never guarded, I'm going in regardless
I don't want to forget you
Climbed your walls without a harness
I'd put you on my shoulders even if I was armless

I've been collecting get well soon cards but I still haven't felt any better
Collecting... Get well soon... and I haven't.... Still feel like shit
I've been collecting get well soon cards but I still haven't felt any better

Those gates were never guarded, I'm going in regardless
Climbed your walls without a harness
I'd put you on my shoulders even if I was armless
