

If You Had The Heart

Ilse DeLange

I see all that I ever wanted
When you look at me like you do
I'd love to believe you've got all I need
But there's something missing in you

If you had the heart to go with those eyes
I'd fall for you and never think twice

I'd trust those lips that tell such sweet lies
If you had the heart to go with those eyes
It's easy to see that you thrill me
But I know your story so well
You think hearts are for breaking
And love's made for taking
You give nothing at all of yourself
