

Where Dreams Go To Die

Ilse DeLange

I've been to the lowest places
Down to where the darkness chases
Away every shimmering light

Wishes that were all in vain
Written on paper planes
That never made their way into the endless sky

The only heart lost is the one that won't try
The bird in the cage is the one that won't fly
I am here and I testify
That's where dreams go to die
That's where dreams go to die

I'm going to the highest mountain
Then I'm gonna turn around and

Watch the clouds swallow my tears

Casting all my fears away
Burn them in the light of day
Can't no sorrow find me here

The only heart lost is the one that won't try
The bird in the cage is the one that won't fly
I am here and I testify
That's where dreams go to die

The only heart lost is the one that won't try
The bird in the cage is the one that won't fly
I am here and I testify
