Nailed To Gold

Immolation

As if they were tearing through my flesh, it was embedded in my mind

That Jesus died for me... How foolish can they be

As if they were tearing through my flesh, it was embedded in my mind

Jesus didn't die for me... Jesus died

How foolish can they be to worship such a king Who was crowned and hung between two thieves

In hopes of his return, we congregate in prayer A faith so strong it obscured us from the truth

Your cross was my enslaver Nails that held me close Your precious blood was shed And I don't accept your pain

Monarch of deceit on a cross of hope and fear Not a symbol of your sanctity But a reminder of your defeat

As you were nailed and killed So were we nailed to gold We live upon your cross and bear this guilt for you
