

Filtered Truth

In Flames

Were all in this together
So I was told
All for one, one for none

When it's time
You know this could never be justified
But still
You take the hatred home

Is this what you were searching for
The wounded and the filtered truth
Don't ignore a life that's real

How come you feel so lone
Is it the rage inside
Wipes away
The rage inside

You're battered against the world
You knew,
A place to hide from everything
And it had to make you fall

How come you feel so lone
Is it the rage inside
Wipes away
The rage inside

How come you feel so lone
Is it the rage inside
Wipes away
The rage inside

How come you feel so lone
Is it the rage inside
Wipes away
The rage inside
