

Legacy

In This Moment

Won't you walk with me till both of our feet bleed?
Won't you walk with me through the blindness, we can see?
If I set you free, will you promise me I will see you again?
I will walk with you till both of our feet bleed

Cause we are one, we run free
I am you and you are me
You sacrificed everything
I am and will always be your legacy

I will dance with you till the shadows slip away
I will lay my hands on you to ease your pain
I will sing to you, I will guide you for everything
Won't you dance with me till the shadows slip away?

We are one, we run free
I am you and you are me
You sacrificed everything
I am and will always be your legacy

I promise I will see you again
I will find you on the other side
Promise I will see you again
See you again
See you again
On the other side

Won't you walk with me till both of our feet bleed?

Cause we are one, we run free
I am you and you are me
I'll sacrifice everything
With you, you are and will always be

We are one, we run free
I am you and you are me
You sacrificed everything
I am and will always be
I am and will always be your legacy
