

Goodbye To Yesterday

Incognito

Every day I say I'll try something new
Make some changes that are long overdue
Tryin' to wrap my head around it
Still remain surrounded
By walls that I can't seem to get through

A part of me so keen to see
What I will find if I leave it all behind

I keep dreaming 'bout where I could be
About the places and the faces I'd see
This is bigger than myself
I know that no one else
Can do what's clearly up to me

It's never too late to change your fate
Right here and now, I'm gonna turn my world around

I can't stop what I've started
'Cos I'm finally on my way
And it's time to say goodbye to yesterday
If this goodbye hurts I'm sorry
But it's got to be this way
'Cos it's time to say goodbye to yesterday

Well, I used to think I was stuck on red
Now I know that it was all in my head
But I'm done making excuses
Can't fool myself, it's useless
I'll follow my own lead instead

A part of me so keen to see
What I will find if I just leave it all, leave it all behind
