

Your Eyes

Isak Danielson

Maybe a little bit too much to drink tonight
Every time I thought about you
Only time I thought I had you figured out
We were sitting on a bench when you said my name
And even if there are other girls
You're the only one, you are my only aim
Now she's breathing on my back, I don't know why I know that times were hard, but I feel like that still in the right kind of place

Why you scaring?
Why you keeping me from looking into your eyes?
Only hearing, this is in between when looking into your eyes
You see me and I see you
Why you keeping, why you keeping me from looking into your eyes

You told me I was everything you're asking for and more
I felt like I was riding in a fairytale, but war
How you made me feel was a never end
You always had my heart in mind, but then you went ahead and broke it like a thread

Why you scaring?
Why you keeping me from looking into your eyes?
Only hearing, this is in between when looking into your eyes
You see me and I see you
Why you keeping, why you keeping me from looking into your eyes

Never saw the story behind the lie
You always made me feel like an endless light
Even when you gave up I won the fight, won the fight

Oh, oh, oh...
Looking into your eyes

Why you scaring?
Why you keeping me from looking into your eyes? (looking into your eyes)
Only hearing, this is in between when looking into your eyes (looking into your eyes)
You see me and I see you (I said I see you, baby)
Why you keeping, why you keeping me from looking into your eyes
Looking into your eyes
