

I Forgot About You

Jake Miller

(Forgot about you)

(Forgot about you)

Yeah, something's feelin' different
Like a weight has lifted
Woke up feelin' like today's a holiday
Rain turned into blue skies
After all these years I
Think I'm finally turnin' a page

Cause I can finally live without a voice in my head
And I can finally sleep when I'm alone in my bed
And I know we ain't talkin' but I thought that I'd let you know

That for the first time, last night
I heard someone say your name
I realized that I forgot about you, forgot about you
And now I'm feelin' so high, I can't lie
I swear I thought I'd see pigs fly before I
Ever forgot about you, but I forgot about you
I forgot about you, you
I forgot about you, you

Yeah, the memories have faded
Phone number erased it
I deleted every picture of you and me
I'm lookin' in my rearview, and I'm nowhere near you
Feels like I can finally breathe

Cause I can finally live without a voice in my head
And I can finally sleep when I'm alone in my bed
And I know we ain't talkin' but I thought that I'd let you know

That for the first time, last night
I heard someone say your name
I realized that I forgot about you, forgot about you
And now I'm feelin' so high, I can't lie
I swear I thought I'd see pigs fly before I
Ever forgot about you, but I forgot about you
I forgot about you, you
I forgot about you, you
