

Paris And New York

Jake Miller

We turn colder
Your seasons changed
Tell me if we are drifting apart love
Tell me when did it go wrong
And it's obvious
We needed space
Maybe we're just getting older
How did we both get so lost

So far away
Well now we're here
We're still the same
It's you and I
And we the same
And we the same

Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Talking 'bout you and me
Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Can't change who we are
Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Still I gotta get from
Paris to New York
Paris to New York, oh

Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
Oh no

Maybe my heart's in a different place
Guess that we got so lost in our timezones
Trying to do this alone
Baby some things never change
Always go back, being lovers
Only time we get along

So far away
Well now we're here
We're still the same
It's you and I
And we the same
And we the same

Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Talking 'bout you and me
Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Can't change who we are
Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Still I gotta get from
Paris to New York

Paris to New York, oh

Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
Oh no

Oh, we're not the same
But far from different
Yeah, you and I are just like

Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Talking 'bout you and me
Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Can't change who we are
Paris and New York
Paris and New York
Still I gotta get from
Paris to New York
Paris to New York, oh

Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
