English Beefcake

I wish I could create myself A kool machine designed to help Not always hurting Just plug me in and do the rounds Impress your friends Save yourself pounds I'll not be wanting I wish that things could be that way But every dog must have its say The orchestra's tuning I understand your suffering I felt the same sting in my heart That's why I'm singing

Drifting away as lovers do Heads you win and tails I lose Nothing to say much less to do Unhappy me unhappy you

I know you want it all to end Transform a love into a friend Magicians can do Gut feelings come Gut feelings go Like rivers we have no control They just keep flowing Yeah, I wish I could create myself A cool machine or someone else A lot less knowing

Drifting away as lovers do Heads you win And tails I lose Nothing to say Much less to do Unhappy me Unhappy you Love can heal And love can sting Heads you lose And tails I win Unhappy me Unhappy you Nothing to say And much less to do

There's nothing to say I get in the way Unable to break obsession There's nothing to say I get in the way Still unable to break obsession
