Heavens

I've been sitting on top of these rocks Watching the waters rise Everyone that I have loved has gone floating by I've been praying for the king of the world to come rescue me From a land that's lost in dreams From a land that's lost in dreams

Are you waiting for the heavens Are you waiting for the heavens to descend Waiting for the depend, the depend, the depend Are you waiting for the heavens Are you waiting for the heavens to descend Waiting for the depend, the depend

I've been looking through microscopes to see how our life begin s I've been training my lens on the stars to see where it ends But it's this living in between that's bringing me down To a land that's lost in dreams To a land that's lost in dreams To a land that's lost in dreams

Are you waiting for the heavens Are you waiting for the heavens to descend Waiting for the depend, the depend, the depend Are you waiting for the heavens Are you waiting for the heavens to descend Waiting for the depend, the depend, the depend
