Runaground

For every woman you will leave an open door You find yourself thinking why can't I have more? You say there's nothing you can do You tried your best but you were only being you Oh no She's gone Back wherever she came from You watched Her go Your reaction's far too slow Runaground Runaground Runaground You don't know what you've got until you've lost it all Might I suggest you find a softer place to fall You take for granted all the riches of your world You may have oysters but you'll never find a pearl Oh no She's gone Back wherever she came from You watched Her go Your reaction's far too slow Oh no She's gone Back wherever she came from You watched Her qo Your reaction's far too slow Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground She's moving on The love has gone You left the door wide open She's moving on The just has gone This anger's felt not spoken It got too old Was too controlled Could have gone on forever The love has gone She's moving on When she said now you never

James

Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground Runaground

Oh no