

Stolen Horse

James

Falling, falling into you,
Falling, no parachute
You lost all self-control,
We don't know,
Which way you might go,
I found a map you left,
No use,
Can't tell east from west.

Heading out on this mercy trail,
You look so strong,
Feel so frail,
Need a friend in this barren land,
All your approaches have failed,
Hope you come through.

Falling, falling into you,
Falling, no parachute
Are you receiving me,
Read my lips,
A foreign language,
I'm not deceiving you,
Take my hand,
It's a bridge.

Heading out on this mercy trail,
You look so strong,
Feel so frail,
See the world through a preacher's eyes,
Now all of your preaching has failed,
Hope you come through

Someone has stolen your horse,
Hitch a ride 'cause it's far too far to walk.
Someone has stolen your horse,
Hitch a ride 'cause it's far too far to walk.
