

Let Love Hold You Now

Jamie Lawson

Hey little sleepyhead, close your eyes
Let all the trouble inside you subside
I've heard tomorrows have sunnier skies
Love, it is closer than you realize

Sweet, sweet
Let sweet dreams help keep
You safe and warm here with me

Rest in these arms of mine
Troubles be gone and give in so your heart will laugh
So let love hold you now
Let love hold you now

Dreaming about far away places from here
Some of the world where there is nothing to fear
Nobody will harm you
I will be love's volunteer
When you wake up, know that I'll still be here

Rest in these arms of mine
Troubles be gone and give in so your heart will laugh
So let love hold you now
Let love hold you now

All of the weight you carry inside
Let all those demons around you subside
Die, let them die

Remember the nights by the old reservoirs
Running from sirens of distant police cars
Thousands of delicate, trembling stars
They would surround us and would always be ours

Rest in these arms of mine
Troubles be gone pray that your heart will laugh
So let love hold you now
Let love hold you now

Let love hold you now
Let love hold you
Let love hold you now
