

More In Love With You

Jason Reeves

Early in the morning
When I'm still so tired
Both my poor eyes hurt
You will drag me out of bed
And I will drive us all the way to church

And I will pray with you
In that front row pew
I will spend my whole life through
Falling more in love with you

Someday when I'm coming home
So late from work
You try to save the day

You'll pull dinner out
The oven black as night
And set it smokin' on my plate

And I will laugh with you
When you burn my food
I will spend my whole life through
Falling more in love with you

Summer nights, the lightning strikes
So close to our house
All the lights go out
I will sing your favorite song
Along with all the raindrops falling down

And I will dance with you
'Till the sky turns blue
I will spend my whole life through
Falling more in love with you

And when we pass that hill
We always talk about the house
We'll build someday
All the beauty we will witness
While we're living in the love we'll make

I will dream with you
Until they all come true
I will spend my whole life through
Falling more in love with you

And we won't make plans
Cause they'll all just change time and time again
And we might not know how it ends
But as long as we have us
That'll be enough

Someday when we're older
And our skin is worn
And both our hair is gray

We won't cry when it's our time

To leave this life behind
We'll float away

And I will fly with you
Far beyond the moon
I will spend my whole life through
Falling more in love with you
Falling more in love with you
Falling more in love with you
