I told him that I loved him cause I loved him at the time
And I told him that I didn't want any other lips touchin' mine
I whispered love your kisses are sweeter than the wine
But I'd never tasted champagne at the time

At the time I didn't know your name and I'd never seen your fac

At the time I didn't know your name and I'd never seen your fac e

At the time I'd never lost myself in your tender warm embrace If you've never had filet mignon peanut butter taste just fine And that's the way it was when I loved him at the time When I found you I started hearing pretty music I'd never heard And quietly when we spoke of love it was like I'd learned a brand new word

I once thought I'd seen everything but till I met you I was bli nd

And I wonder now was I even born at the time
At the time I didn't know your name and I'd never seen your fac e

At the time I'd never lost myself in your tender warm embrace If you've never had a $\mathsf{T}\text{-}$

bone steak saltine crackers taste just fine
And that's the way it was when I loved him at the time
If you've never been to Paris France Big Spring Texas will suit you fine

And that's the way I was when I loved him at the time
