Two Voices Two Shadows Two Faces

Jean Shepard

You say you don't love her my darling But somehow you can tell her so So we hide as we still tender moments We hide so nobody will know Two voices two shadows two faces That hide in the dark of the night Two voices two shadows two faces Afraid to come out in the light

You tell me be patient my darling Tomorrow you'll tell her bout me We've gone through a million tomorrows How long will our love have to be Two voices two shadows two faces That hide in the dark of the night Two voices two shadows two faces Afraid to come out in the light
