

Die A Little

Jeff Scott Soto

She always choose to walk on the different side of life
She got no mind for falling
And when you think she's close she's floating far away
She's only stalling waiting for the day

Cause she knows when she falls she's falling to stay
I know that you know
We're falling from grace

But you don't know why she's gone
But you can't sleep with out starting to cry
Cause you feel that you die just a little, die just a little
And there ain't nothing left but saying goodbye, goodbye

A blue sky for a blue day
You came so far but you could not stay
A blue moon on a Tuesday
You see the light but it so far away

Cause she knows when she falls
She's falling to stay
I know that you know we're falling from grace

But you don't know why she's gone
But you can't sleep with out starting to cry
Cause you feel that you die just a little, die just a little
And there ain't nothing left but saying goodbye, goodbye

Cause she knows when she falls she's falling to stay
I know that you know we're falling from grace

But you don't know why she's gone
But you can't sleep with out starting to cry
Cause you feel that you die just a little, die just a little
And there ain't nothing left but saying goodbye, goodbye
