

Give A Little More

Jeff Scott Soto

Wonder me, I can't find the meaning of your ways
Can't u see, want to right from wrong, oh
Empty days, have turned into years since you've gone
But anyway, u wanted it your way all along

But I tried to reach out my hand
Show I can forgive and forget
All u do is turn a blind eye
But I'm not done yet

Give a little more to what you're fighting for
Don't let 'em get u down
Take a little time to open up your mind
What's lost is always found

Suffer me, u try to demean me once again
Don't u see, I so far from care, ooh yea

I'm moving on, I'm tired of chasing u down
You stripped away, all my desire are going nowhere

I tried to reach out with my heart
Its time to forgive & forget
All u do is turn your blind eye
But I'm not done yet

Give a little more to what you're fighting for
Don't let 'em get u down
Take a little time to open up your mind
What's lost is always found

I don't know what it means anymore
I don't know how to turn it around
I've reached out my hand but u turned it away...

Give a little more to what you're fighting for
Don't let 'em get u down
Take a little time to open up your mind
What's lost is always found
