Down to Earth

Friends I have to tell you They sent me on a mission down to earth To watch and to observe life And gather information 'bout your birth

But what I mostly see is misery And it makes me sad

So capable of love yet, too scared to open up and Just wanna be accepted, but can't show that you care Creating problems daily, no wonder some go crazy So special and so gifted, but most don't know, it's there

Friends I have to ask you Surrounded by the beauty of this place Why do you make it so hard For all the things you want to come your way

Well I don't think you see your destiny And it makes me sad

So capable of love yet, too scared to open up and Just wanna be accepted, but can't show that you care Creating problems daily, no wonder some go crazy So special and so gifted, but most don't know, it's there

Do it, just let it all out Express emotion Say how you're feeling It's liberating Nothing can hurt you You can be happy But you must believe it (believe it)

Well I don't think you see your destiny And it makes me sad

So capable of love yet, too scared to open up and Just wanna be accepted, but can't show that you care Creating problems daily, no wonder some go crazy So special and so gifted, but most don't know, it's there So capable of love yet, too scared to open up and Just wanna be accepted Creating problems daily, no wonder some go crazy So special and so gifted, but most don't know, it's there

Won't you let me take you down to earth
