

It's Your World

Jennifer Hudson

Didn't say that you want from me
But you can get it any time any place
I'll be your servant, your savior
Everything you ever wanted baby
Just make one wish
And I'll become your genie
Your go-get-it, your "bring it back and give it to you" baby
I walk over that rainbow and deliver to you that cargo
Got the whole earth in the box, wrapped in a bow for you

It's your world
Yeah It's your world baby
It's your world baby
And everything in it
It's your world
It's your world baby
It's your world
Boy if you ask you shall be giving
It's your world

It's your world

All of your worries, your casual doubts
Give 'em to me and I'll erase 'em for you
I'll be your heaven, your blessing, no stressing
Boy I'll make all your dreams come true
No matter what it is Yeah say what it is
And I will do it for you
I walked my last rhythm I laugh out
Sink my finger in the ground
And the turn this circle round for you

It's your world
Yeah It's your world baby
It's your world baby
And everything in it
It's your world
It's your world baby
It's your world
Boy if you ask you shall be giving
It's your world

It's your world

See a woman like you baby
Shouldn't have to ask nothing baby
No no no
You should have a world baby
Right in the palm of your hands
Just tell me what to do
Make you life a better life for you
Better things your heart desires baby
See I have born to make it happen baby
All you ever do... deserving everything you want loving you
And as long as you keep getting me that sweet love

Point to me baby, belongs to you
If it's money you want
We need to pay your bills
Buy you nice things
Shopping sprees

If you're in need love
Boy it don't matter what
Even the moons and the stars above
You can have my heart
You can have my cars
A credit out of me
I give you my heart
See that beautiful
And all of the planets
Belongs to you
Just reach out and grab it

It's your world
It's your world baby
You deserve a whole world
And everything in it
It's your world
Give it to you
Everything you want
Anything you need

All your hopes and dreams
It's your world
And everything in it
Listen to me
It's your world
