

Man Enough

Jessica Simpson

Are you man enough, are you brave enough
Can you pick me up when I fall down
When I lose my place, when I lose my faith
Can you find a way to turn me back around

I want to take you the deepest part of me
Show you my weakness, all my insecurities
But I've gotta know before I give you every thing
Are you man enough, are you tough enough
Will you fight for love the way I do

Cos it's rough out there and honey, life ain't fair
No one else will care if we win or lose
I wanna share all my angels with you tonight
Open my soul full of secrets for you tonight
I need to know before I fall too far tonight

Are you man enough, are you man enough
Are you man enough, are you brave enough
Will you fight for love the way I do
Are you strong enough, are you tough enough
Will you fight for love the way I do,
the way I do

Are you man enough, are you brave enough
Will you fight for love the way I do
