

Might as Well Be Making Love

Jessica Simpson

If tommorrow we won't even remem
I was started who was right and who was wrong
If this fire will be burnt down till and end
Before too long
If the morning's gonna turn it into history
Be a page of what we wished we never said
If you gonna wake up here with me
Here with me anyway
Here in this bed

We might as well be making love
Let this rainy night have the best of us
Turn these stubborn walls into a pile of dust
Maybe we said "enough, we might as well be making love"

If these moments between us are really diamonds
So beautiful, so rare, so hard to find
Then we better pay attention while their shining
And stop wasting time
Yeah we're wasting our time

We might as well be making love
Let this rainy night have the best of us
Turn these stubborn walls into a pile of dust
Maybe we said "enough, we might as well be making love"

We might as well be making love
Let this rainy night have the best of us
Turn these stubborn walls into a pile of dust
Maybe we said "enough, we might as well be making love"
