Conqueror

All the colours that we saw they touched us All the trails that they made we followed We can be just like all of the others We have to be just like all of the others

All the spaces they made for us Are all filled up And they will deceive us and they will desert us But all our colours will always be with us And all our colours they will always be with us

All our colours will always be with us...