As it was in the beginning It will be until the end. Your money buys you people, But it will not buy you friends. Your life is an illusion, So live it day by day. Just draw your own conclusion, It's gonna happen anyway Now you've been around The things you've found Just get you down. A life of ease Makes hard to please, You have it all. No one tells you why The things you buy Don't get you high. The life you lead, Just what you need. It isn't there. Does no one care? As it was in the beginning It will be until the end. Your money buys you people, But it will not buy you friends. Your life is an illusion, So live it day by day Just draw your own conclusion, It's gonna happen anyway

John Miles