

The Lovely Things You Do

Johnny Mathis

You make music,
More than music,
You make starlight more than stars,
You make oceans twice as blue,
These are the lovely things you do.

You make sweetness,
More than sweetness,
You make raindrops more than rain,
You make daydreams all come true,
These are the lovely things you do.

Birds sing, because you sing,
The trees sigh, because you sigh,
The worlds in tune, because my dear,
Our love will never die.

You make moonlight,
More than moonlight,
You make heaven more than sky,
You make life so fresh and new,
Those are the lovely things you do.

You make sweetness,
More than sweetness,
You make raindrops more than rain,
You make daydreams all come true,
These are the lovely things you do.

You make moonlight,
More than moonlight,
You make heaven more than sky,
You make life so fresh and new,
These are the lovely things you do.
