

Alone Now

Johnossi

We should go
make a ride, chase a dream you were born for reason, and I see the world, as a very scary place mother out, father in there's a hole in my ocean it drags, me alone
way down, to the bottom

Oh when, I was young I was pure, and I knew that the will, to go one to proceed, is the first thing that leaves a troubled mind, struggling with the hole, in the ocean it pulls, you apart, and you're back underneath

I believe the world is waiting for me
if I open up the door
but I feel alone now
alone now
alone now

All responsibilities are keeping from the core and I feel alone now
alone now
alone now
alone now
alone

And memories, come down an old friend
where you go, where you live haven't seen, you around days turns, and ages
there's a hole in your ocean
it pulls, you apart, and you're back underneath

but I feel alone now
alone now
alone now
alone now

All responsibilities are keeping from the core
alone now
alone now
alone now

I believe the world is waiting for me
alone now
alone now

alone
