

The Only Thing I Can Do

Jon McLaughlin

You should know there will be days
When you pray for sun but get the rain
When the tears fall down your pretty face
My love will blow the storm away

In the middle of a sleepless night
When your dreams are putting up a fight
And the words I say don't come out right
I'm still gonna be right by your side

Life is full of ups and downs
And I can't change the world around
The only thing that I can do
Is always keep on loving you

Now the road ain't always shiny gold
And happiness is hard to hold
But as our story is being told
My love for you it don't get old
