

Abyss of Evil

Jorn

You wake up in the morning and you shake your weary head
You look for the sunshine but rain falls down instead
Lost in the wilderness there is chaos everywhere
Win or lose pick and choose we are the children of despair
Roll the dice pay the price look for a reason
Wise man show me which way to go
Tell me what you know tell me what you know
Do you know the wonders of the world
Digging to the core digging to the core always wanting more yea h
No time for healing get down on your knees and pray
There was one shot in the dark a stranger in the park
And I was only one step away
Spinning the wheel chains of steel to the crossroads we sail on
Wise man show me which way to go
Stay away from the abyss of evil
Where the monsters and demons collide
In the eye of the storm you'll be shattered and torn
On your journey to paradise ooh oh oh
Roll the dice pay the price look for a reason
Wise man show me which way to go
Keep away from the abyss of evil
Where the monsters and demons collide
In the eye of the storm you'll be shattered and torn
On your journey to paradise
Stay away from the abyss of evil oh
In the eye of the storm you'll be shattered and torn
On your journey to paradise oh oh look away
Stay away from the abyss of evil
