

Love Is The Remedy

Jorn

Creatures of the darkness we have shadowed every land
Chaos an disorder it's the endless curse of man
Living with the pressure it gets harder every day
Never liked to compromise but it's the only way

Pouring demons from the fountain
In my brain they won't let go
I'm slaying devils from below
I'm just a climber on a mountain
Dragging questions through deep snow
The answers never show but one thing I know

That never to believe in love
Never to believe in peace is a crime
The crime of the century
People in this broken home
You must let the warm winds roam in your heart
Love is the remedy
Ooh... let love sing your melody

I cannot see the future but I hear the judgement bells
Racing down this one way street it's leading straight to hell
Guess I'm not the only one to think the world's gone blind
Horns are growing out of heads, the devil rules our time

Calling out for freedom in our moral of decay
Hear the money talk, see the bullshit walk away
We're running out of time inside this labyrinth of blame
The hate remains the same and war is just a game

But never to believe in love
Never to believe in peace it's a crime
Crime of humanity
Have to rise from the dark we grow
To change the world we know
So come on and set love forever free

Hey now mr righteous so you think you own the land
Clever with the business but your heart is in a jam
You may tell me I'm a loser and that I ain't got no clue
But unlike you I read the signs before I make my move

Everybody slaving for their money trying to maintain
Fighting bitterness that's eating in our brains
How can we prevail in time when blinding all our shame
If we don't see the pain only evil shall remain

Never to believe in love
Never to believe in peace is a crime
Life's not the enemy
Shine on the darkest road, set fire to the heavy load
In your heart let love forever be
Yeah... set love forever free
