

Walk Right In

Josh Kelley

If you want me and I want you
We should just open up the doors and
Walk right in

Let's live in this moment for a second
Two hearts plotting out the course
To walk right in
We should just walk right in

If there's a million ways you can justify your love
I can be the one tonight
Let me be the one tonight
Simple chemistry's all we'll ever need for the freedom to decide

Standing still in hesitation
We're frozen for fear of obligations of fall in love
Do we need to fall in love?

As I walk to you, I see your body shiver
Shaking, the urge to put my hands
Upon your skin
Let me walk right in

There's a million ways you can justify your love
I can be the one tonight
Let me be the one tonight
Simple chemistry's all we'll ever need for the freedom to decide

Walk right in
Let me walk right in

There's a million ways you can justify your love
I can be the one tonight
Let me be the one tonight
I can be the one tonight
Let me be your one tonight
Simple chemistry's all we'll ever need for the freedom to decide
