Cathedral Spires

Judas Priest

They have blown away the daylight
Hours we had
Left a leagcy, a deadly aftermath
We cannot exist in godforsaken lands
As we spiral down into oblivion
Breathing the fumes of fires that they ignite
Losing ground and we are all just losing sight
We shall never see another setting sun
Time to rise up and ascend, the end has come

No more willpower Choked by hell fire

Darkness above
Blackening out the sun
Gripped by steel claws
Corrosion eating us

So before we're all devoured Time to rise up and retire In cathedral spires Watching as the world expires From amongst the clouds In cathedral spires

No names No graves

No prayers Can save us

Ashes to dust Doomsday's upon us now

It cannot be stopped Genocide all is lost

Oh! We're so tired
Time to rise up and conspire in
Cathedral spires
Watching as our world expires
From up above the clouds
In cathedral spires

Jaws of corruption
Swallow us as one
Consuming every nation
Evoke resistance getting none
Complete disintegration
No good to defend
There can be but one outcome
We are no more - ascend

Vaporized fury
Offers no sanctuary
Oh! We're so tired
Time to rise up and retire

Watching as the world expires From up above the clouds In cathedral In cathedral spires

Oh! We're so tired Watching the world expire Time that we retired Up in cathedral spires
