

Waiting For The Sun

Juice Newton

Think I'll sleep alone again tonight
Since I finally think I'm getting it right
Seems I spend most all of my time
Waiting for the sun to shine

I think about you most every night
But you're getting hard to visualize
And it's so dark, I fear I've gone blind
Waiting for the sun to shine

Waiting for the sun to shine
Somewhere out upon the horizon
Waiting for the sun to shine
I've been waiting, wondering why
Waiting

If I put a lock on my heart
And I keep myself from falling apart
Just pretend that everything's fine
Waiting for the sun to shine

Waiting for the sun to shine
Somewhere out upon the horizon
Waiting for the sun to shine
I've been waiting, wondering why
Waiting

Waiting for the sun to shine
Somewhere out upon my horizon
Waiting for the sun to shine
Oh, I'm waiting, wondering why

Waiting for the sun to shine
Somewhere out upon the horizon
Waiting for the sun to shine
I've been waiting and wondering why

Waiting for the sun to shine
Somewhere out upon my horizon
Waiting for the sun to shine
Oh, I'm waiting...
